Teutons Face Most Critical Situation of the War; Food is Insufficient Even on Reduced Ration.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The food situation in Germany, officials here believe, is the most critical. It has been so since May 1. Information reaching Washington from many sources indicates that even with the reduced ration planned for June 15 the country will not have enough food to carry the population through to the next harvest and that further reductions will have to be made.

The reduced ration was to have been put into operation March 1, but the measure was postponed in the hope that grain would be forthcoming in large quantities from the Ukraine. When this hope vanished the German government saw the reduction was inevitable.

Germany began consuming her 1917 wheat crop two months before it was intended to start on it and the German potato crop had turned out nearly as bad as German agricultural interests had hoped.

FAMINE AIDS ALLIES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, May 21.—"I feel confident that the time is at hand when famine-stark, medieval famine will join the Entente as a political and military ally against Germany and Austria," the correspondent of the Paris Le Matin telegraphs from Antananarivo, in France, near the Swiss border.

The correspondent says he draws his conclusion from oral statements by French officials and from his own observations extended up to the end of April. The great masses of the German and Austrian peoples, this informant declares, are more than ever now casting their lot with the Allies, not only because the people talk of nothing but bread and their morale is so low that the government is afraid that America is in earnest.

BRITISH HOLD MASTERY OF THE AIR IN FRANCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—As evidence that the British have obtained mastery of the air in France, the British pictorial service made public today a cablegram from the British Ministry of Information saying that 20 per cent. of combats in which British airplanes are now engaged take place entirely over the German lines. "It is very exceptional," the message adds, "for any British aviator to be brought down over British lines since May 21."

It is further stated that documentary evidence shows that among the German casualties twenty-two German regiments, commanders, commanding in ranks to the British brigadier-general, have been killed in action.

LAND IN OCEAN.

LONDON, May 21.—Two German and a large number of British warships have been forced to land in the North Sea were rescued by British steamers, telegraphs the correspondent at Copenhagen of the Christiania Tidende. These presumably are the machines mentioned in the British official air report as having been driven down.

PERSIA STILL PLAGUED.

Figures Report Since Stricken District was Cut Off Says British Advance is Relief.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 21.—Epidemics of typhus and typhoid and famine still follow in the wake of war in Northwestern Persia, according to a cable message from Teheran, Persia, dated May 14, to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief. The British advance, however, is having a "good effect."

The message, which brings to America the first news since telegraphic communication from the pro-American district was cut off six weeks ago, also reports the occupation of the city of Urumia by the Armenians, the occupation of Salmas by Assyrians, and the destruction of Dilman, and the destruction of Dilman, American missionaries are reported to be.

BIG MEASURE OF ADVERTISING AGAIN PRINTED IN "THE TIMES"

May 19, 1918, the aggregate volume of advertising printed in Los Angeles newspapers totaled 18,520 inches.

The Times again was favored with most of the advertising, clearly demonstrating the continued preference of advertising patrons for Southern California's leading newspaper.

The following enlightening tabulation indicates the lead of The Times over the other two local newspapers, to wit:

THE TIMES 3,121 inches
Second morning newspaper 1,652
Third morning newspaper 3,691

CLASSIFIED OF "WANT" ADVERTISING

Nowhere else in the world does the public place so much confidence in classified or "Want" advertising as it does in that printed in The Times. For years The Times has printed more classified advertising than any other two Pacific Coast newspapers combined.

Sunday last The Times printed not only as much as the two other local newspapers put together, but it exceeded their combined total by 840 inches. Tabulated, the figures are as follows:

THE TIMES 3,121 inches
Second morning newspaper 1,652
Third morning newspaper 596

THE FORGIVING FIGURES PROVE BEYOND A DOUBT THAT DISCRIMINATING ADVERTISING IN ANY LINE OF BUSINESS SELECT THE TIMES AS THE MOST POPULAR MEDIUM FOR REACHING THE INTELLIGENT AND BUYING READERS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

LONDON, May 21.—Northwest of Merville, in the Flanders salient, the British improved their positions last night, the War Office announces. Thirty prisoners and six machine guns were taken by the British in gun battles, and captured in the new positions, launched this morning after a period of heavy shelling, was crushed by the British artillery and machine guns. The statement says.

"A successful local operation was carried out by troops of the Surrey battalion yesterday extending northwest of Merville. A re-entrant in the British lines was closed up and thirty prisoners and six machine guns were captured by the statement.

"Early this morning a hostile counter-attack against the new positions, delivered after a heavy bombardment, was broken up by our artillery and machine gun fire.

"We carried out a successful raid last night against the German lines, brought back a few prisoners and a machine gun from the enemy's trenches.

"During the night the hostile artillery, after Helbutens, between the forest of Nieppe and Meteren, and more active than usual between the Scarpe River and Hill 70, north of Merville, was crushed by our artillery.

SENSATIONAL SMITH
SUITS ENDS MILKY.HOTEL OWNER GIVES WIFE
PROPERTY, JUDGE GRANTS
HER A DIVORCE.ATTORNEY TO GUARD
SOLDIER'S PROPERTY.

The Smith separation suit before Judge Dewart which bristled with sensational testimony, wound up yesterday afternoon. The attorneys entered an agreement by which Mrs. Geneva Smith, who brought the suit, will receive from Dr. C. Edgar Smith, owner of the St. Edgar Hotel, Redondo Beach, eight lots in Sunnyside, valued at $5000 each; property in East Thirty-seventh street, valued at $3500, and $1800 in cash.

Judge Dewart allowed Attorney Morrison to file an amended complaint asking for a divorce on the ground that she had granted a divorce on the evidence produced in the separate maintenance action.

Mrs. Smith, formerly Mrs. Cuny, was at one time leader of the Bach Orchestra, and Dr. C. Edgar, whose first wife had obtained a divorce from him in September, 1916. Dr. Smith testified that she never was a wife to him. In return she charged him with cruelty.

TELLS LADIES HERE
"WATCH YOUR STEP"

Can not camouflage a touchy corn but says they lift right out

A brisk, lively step is what charms a lovely skin, but your high heels will sometimes and you limp a little. That's bad, girls and you know it. Corns destroy beauty and grace, besides corns can be lifted out with the fingers.

Rid your feet of every corn by asking at any drug store for a quarter of a ounce of freezeon. This will cost less than sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, touchy corn relieves the soreness and soon the entire corn root and all, lifts right out without pain.

This freezeon is a gummy substance which dries instantly and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding skin.

Women must keep in mind that cornless feet create a youthful step which enhances her attractiveness.

*Secretary of Interior, Here, Calls Upon development of the vast natural resources of the country to be located in the upper reaches of the Colorado, Grand and Green rivers.

"The use of irrigation is to be extended and the conservation must take place for the future, or the Colorado otherwise will not be sufficient.

PULL TOGETHER.

"The West should become appreciative of the fact that now is the time to pull for the larger development of conservation, engineering, irrigation and reforestation, which are the foundations of the Colorado and the development of hydroelectric energy.

We are short of coal and oil and should develop all the vast power that runs to waste into the sea—not the $5,000,000 to 20,000,000 horse power.

"We have at present no law which makes for safe private investment in these projects. The best induc-ment is that it is reasonable which extends practically to the pleasure of the Secretary of the Interior.

"At the present time there is a hurry to get before Congress which is now in session, a bill to be introduced in the Senate and House, but it is not likely that this will be done.

Perhaps the most significant remark was this:

"The Secretary of the Interior has done his best to get the bill passed by this greatest of relief agencies so that it will be more effective.

"Every battle field of the Fair to All.

"REASONABLE PROFITS" PROMISED TO GROCERS.

California Delegation Satisfied with the Result of Washington Visit.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
 CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, May 21.—"Reasonable profits" was one, perhaps the leading, question taken up by a delegation of California grocers who conferred with Mr. Hoover and officials of the Food Administration in Washington immediately preceding the opening of the convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers in Chicago today.

Assurance was received, according to members of the delegation, that, with the other problems touched upon, would receive attention from the national administration. Not much further the delegation went, or what definite assurances were given, that the delegations were in line, but the members expressed satisfaction with the results of their Washington trip. The delegation is composed of Frank B. Connally, of Fresno; C. D. Cross, of Santa Cruz; G. E. Clinch, Grass Valley; Joseph A. Daley, Los Angeles; George A. Hatchell, Coalinga, and A. S. Johnson, San Francisco.

The delegation there can be no public announcement of what the arrangement the growers received in the matter of advanced prices to insure the "reasonable profits" sought was explained by Mr. Daley. Although the delegations were discussed with Mr. Hoover and his co-workers in the Food Administration, the results of their conference will be made public only through the California delegation.

Mr. Daley explained, a matter of form which must be adhered to in order to prevent the appearance of arbitrary action on the part of the delegation in the eyes of the ultimate consumer.

HOURS IN STORES.
 On other subjects which came up at the conference between the big grocers of California and the men highest up in the nation's Food Administration, Mr. Daley said this: "The delegation recited the benefits to retailers and public which food super-

 If you SAVE you will HAVE.

"I only wish I could give more for the Red Cross." Thousands of sincere patriots will say this. This war is the greatest, most far-reaching event in the history of the world, and he is indeed unfortunate, when it is over, and the Victory won, who must say "I had no hand in it."

The money you let slip away from you, dollars and dimes thoughtlessly spent for things you did not need—these you might GIVE, if you had SAVED them.

An account in this Bank gives you a place to HOLD your dollars, as fast as they come in, until you are SURE that you want what you can get for your money, NOW, more than what it will get for you, in goods or in satisfaction, later on.

vision has wrought during this year of war.

"We went to Washington with the request that the forms to be filled in covering our proposed plan of administration be greatly shortened and simplified," explained Mr. Daley. "We had found that it took the skill of an accountant to fill properly the forms. We believe that the revision of the forms would expedite the work of food administration. When we broached the subject, we learned that the Food Administration was already in the process of making a revision of its forms to accommodate our California delegation, but our California delegation was the first that had set forth the need of reform. In this, we were assured that the situation would be remedied."

SUPPORT PLEDGED.

The support Mr. Lichy asked was granted through a resolution adopted unanimously.

Mr. Daley roused the convention to a high pitch of enthusiasm when he took up the cause of the Red Cross. With a pretty actress on one side and a Jackie on the other, he made a plea for cash donations for the Red Cross. The actress made a tour of the room with a waste basket and secured more than $1,000.

This feature was followed by the introduction of a resolution of the Committee on Resolutions, of which Mr. Clinch of Grass Valley is a member, calling on members of the association to set aside next Friday as a day for Red Cross giving. The resolution was adopted and specified 15 per cent of the receipts from the stores of all members to be given to the cause. The resolution was passed and delegates were instructed to wire home immediately to their headquarters.

ers that there is little likelihood of a real labor shortage in Southern California during the war, and he made it clear that a lot of persons who are now idle, because they cannot choose their particular kind of a job at their particular kind of wages, will be compelled to work at something before many months go by or else go into the army.

It is anticipated that the government is planning to raise the draft age to 56, and that exemption will largely be based upon efficiency in some line of work. If a middle-aged man employed in a factory indulges in any shirking he will likely be yanked out of the position and given a rifle to carry. Mr. Wilson said: "This appears to be borne out by the fact that special representatives of the government are now visiting the war-mongering canneries and checking on the efficiency of the employees. When the system gets under way walkouts will no longer be tolerated, Mr. McElroy says.

Dunkley Patent Suit Against Pasadena Company of Interest to Industry.

Independent canners of fruit products all over the United States are vitally interested in the suit of the Dunkley Company of Kalamazoo, Mich., against the Pasadena Company, alleging infringement of a patent on a fruit peeling device, which started yesterday before Federal Judge Trippet.

The case opened with Counsel Frank J. Hause, attorney of record for the Pasadena Company, who will attempt to prove the invalidity of the Dunkley patent. Some forty witnesses from the East have been subpoenaed by the defense to bear out the claims of the Pasadena Company.

Attorney Fred L. Chappell and Raymond L. Blakeslee are counsel for the Dunkley Company. The trial may continue a month.

THE WRONG SYSTEM.

A pretty Los Angeles girl made a false charge against her father in order to get him out of the way so that she could be free to receive the attentions of a young man. Now she is sorry. Sooner or later everyone learns that there is something wrong about any pleasure the attainment of which cause injustice to others.

ISN'T IT TRUE?

If you want to make an everlasting friend of a man allow him to do a favor for you. After he has helped you in some way his egotism will keep him interested, for you will then represent to him an object of his benevolence.

On the other hand, for you to accommodate a person devoid of gratitude means that you have made an enemy, for the vicious and the ungrateful can never forgive those who favor them.

SCIENCE TO THE RESCUE.

One of the objections to the use of the mule in the army is that by braying he will betray his presence to the enemy. The remedy for this is well known to veterinarians. It is to tie a flatiron, a rock or other heavy substance to the mule's tail. No mule will bray without first lifting his tail.

It is suggested that much that is unpleasant might be eliminated from the coming political canvas by tying something that is heavy to the southern terminal of Frank Heney's statesman-clothes.

DECEIVING OURSELVES.

Oh, yes, we say we would like to be rich enough to sit back and do nothing; but an all-day picnic bores most of us half to death. The truth is we don't want to be idle and couldn't be if we wanted to. We are not made that way. Man is different from the brute in many ways and perhaps chiefly in the fact that he possesses the power to accomplish, to achieve, to learn, to grow. The hardest work in the world for an intelligent being is the struggle to kill time. Most of us don't know what is good for us—but we get it just the same, for there is something in man that compels him to forge ahead, whether he wills or no.

"We, ignorant of ourselves,

Beg off our own harm, which the wise powers,

For our own good, deny us; so find we profit

By losing of our prayers."

IRELAND'S SHAME.

While the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland was doubtlessly organized by men who felt at heart that they were Irish patriots, it has become discredited before the world by reason of its association with German intrigues. Irish patriots should know that they will be judged by the company they keep. In the present crisis it is by men's actions rather than by their words that they are measured. The Sinn Feiners seem to imagine that the road to home rule leads through Berlin. Whenever there is Sinn Fein activity there are mysterious landings on the Irish coast from German submarines. Edward de Valera, president of the Sinn Fein, and William Cosgrave, member of Parliament for Kilkenny, have been arrested on a charge of inciting treason. De Valera was born in the United States, but he will receive little sympathy from loyal Americans, although they be of Irish descent, until he cleanses himself of the taint of Hitler.

IS RUSSIA WHOLLY LOST?

Mr. Herman Bernstein, European correspondent of the New York Herald, has wired to that publication from the coast of Norway that the Bolshevik epidemic in Russia is growing less virulent and that there is still hope that Russia may find herself again and figure in the war, "her internal front turned against the German front." Mr. Bernstein asserts there are strong influences in Russia that are capable of bringing out of the present chaos, but the time is not yet ripe for them to strike. He is of the opinion that the classes exploited by Lenin and Trotsky have not yet suffered enough. Mr. Bernstein has been a close student of Russian affairs for several years. He knows something of the working of the Russian intellect, and it is his opinion that the peasants will have had their fill of anarchy when they discover that it is no longer possible for them to plant and harvest their crops in security. He sets next winter for the probable time when Russia will reassess herself by throwing off the yoke of Prussian oppression and demanding that the Tsar shall not be deprived of his place in the sun.

Germany is fully aware of the failure of her efforts to stabilize Russia, and the present activity on the western front is probably dictated by a feverish haste to get some kind of a peace patched up with the Allied democracies before another Russian storm breaks. Russia was, and it is not impossible that Russia will be again. From earliest history the Slav race has never rested long in captivity. Latest dispatches from Moscow are to the effect that the Bolsheviks and another breed of anarchists are engaged in an internecine strife that is rapidly riddling the country of them both. Russia may be reborn if enough Prussians are buried.

The young men in France will not forget the girls they left behind them. "Never Seal the Sweetheart of a Soldier," as one of the latest songs runs.

IS "MORE BUSINESS THAN USUAL" A FALLACY?

That gigantic and exceedingly intricate machine termed "Business" is more or less of a mystery to those who are not engaged in running the machine; and even for many of those who have a hand in it its workings are not always clear.

The slogan "Business as Usual" is a fallacy, proclaimed Director Gifford of the Council of National Defense recently, when outlining the council's plan for a new thrift campaign to reduce consumption of the less essential commodities"—whatever they may be. The campaign is to be waged largely through the use of posters similar to those used in advertising War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds. Just what industries will be made the victims of this attack is not made clear, but they presumably will be those not listed under the heading of "Essential to the War."

Just how he arrives at the conclusion that the curtailment of non-war industries will provide more food or other necessities for the soldiers is a matter Director Gifford neglects to explain. How anyone engaged in business can believe that the destruction of another legitimate business will further his success is yet to be made clear.

Just now the main business of the United States is to wage war; and finally to win it. Any move that tends to smoothness of production is a move to win the war. Any measure that interferes with production and results in an upheaval will shake the economic structure. The interests of the essential and of the non-essential industries are allied—the industries themselves are more or less closely interwoven. Any force that affects one will in a greater or less degree affect the other. Yet this simple truth does not seem to be apparent to the Council of National Defense.

A reduced consumption of non-essentials will not win the war; we do not even see how it can assist in winning it. A certain number of people are dependent upon the non-essential industries for their existence. The government is dependent upon the prosperity of the people for its existence. Should the production of all so-called non-essentials be stopped either by legislation or the campaign these people would have to find other means of support. The war industries would accommodate some few, but the great majority without skill in mechanics or in other trades necessary to the war industry would be up a stump. And who shall determine what things are essential and what are non-essential? For instance, meat and tobacco are both non-essentials for this writer.

The proponents of these various plans to curtail "Business as Usual" do not seem to realize, or, perhaps, they for the time being, forget that to practice thrift you must have an income on which to practice. Should this income be derived from some business which is arbitrarily classed as not essential to the conduct of the war and he the object of a campaign such as this, the only result can be that the income is greatly diminished or possibly cut off. What particular point is gained or end achieved by hampering these businesses?

In times such as these the natural tendency is to cut down on the purchase of all but necessities. The purveyors of non-essentials are finding their returns considerably affected, but are supporting the government to the extent of their ability. Should their incomes be reduced to such an extent that they cannot make ends meet, the government must be denied such financial support as they are giving. Indeed, should the income cease entirely the majority would not be able to engage in productive war work and possibly would be dependent upon others for support.

If the Council of National Defense or the backers of other schemes would guarantee to look out for those affected by such campaigns there could of course be no serious opposition to their efforts. But they make no such provision; do not seem to even consider that their campaign is going to affect the means of support of thousands; apparently overlook the fact that the success of their plans means the destruction of many business organizations.

This campaign and others of the same nature are movements that will affect all. Not all can be engaged in productive war work. The failure of business houses will disturb the financial world. The conservation of finances is the professed aim of these people. If the people have no money there can be no conservation. If money is afraid to go into business it will be a step further for money to be afraid to back the government. And who shall hold the sack? Who shall retain the money that is not spent? Will it do the country more good in safety-deposit vaults than if it were kept in circulation?

"Business as Usual" is not a fallacy; it is out of date. "More Business Than Usual" is the new slogan and is the one to carry the nation through.

BATTLES OF THE AIR.

"God keep you from dying old!" This salutation has been adopted for parting by the knights of the airforce on the western front. With the advent of the airplane chivalry has come back again; new squadrons of air cavalry are being rapidly organized behind the Allied lines, and dominion over the clouds is passing permanently from the Huns. Late dispatches from the fighting front are to the effect that the domain of the aircraft is spreading rapidly. On Monday great air raids were carried out by both sides, thousands of craft participating. While the Germans were delivering their most formidable air attack on London the allied air squadrons were raiding German fortified cities a hundred miles east of the Rhine.

More than one hundred Goths (the German raiding cars) took part in the moonlight attack on London; but not all returned. The greatest damage was wrought by the explosion of bombs in a German plane when it was shot down in the outskirts of London. This attack was the sixteenth attempt of the Germans to bomb St. Paul's and Westminster Abbey. The German aviators are reckless of life in their endeavors to add these two famous structures to the long list of cathedrals, hospitals and public buildings destroyed by the Huns since the war began; but, while a number of bombs have fallen in Westminster, the Parliament buildings and the rare old English cathedrals have not yet been struck. Some things seem to be protected by Providence itself from the Huns. There were the usual casualties among the civilian population; about 200 persons,

Pierce is said to have obtained the bonds from a man named Burger, panded its target to include the locality, with seventy-five men stationed there all the time, and with from 150 to 200 men there at times their quarters and on the fields. An Smallest in Fortnight.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Stocks as a whole today recovered much of the ground lost during yesterday's setback, although the rise was frequently retarded by renewed selling. Both in breadth and volume the session was the most contested of any in the last fortnight.

During the forenoon, and in the final hour, the pressure against United States Steel served as a deterrent, though offset by the strength of other industrials and the equipment. Steel closed at 108%, a net gain of %.

Rails, coppers, shippings and tobacco engrossed speculative attention in the later dealings. Maine performed a new high quotation for the present session, and Santa Maria Tobacco repeating its recent maximum at 129%.

Baldwin Locomotive again featured the day's list, especially at wide fluctuations, closing at no gain of a large fraction after having risen almost three points. Copper was up 1% to 2%.

There was little rail activity in the morning in anticipation of today's meeting of the producers with the War Board, from which a higher price schedule is expected.

The market for rails centered around low-priced issues. New Haven, Rock Island and St. Paul re-

SUPERVISORS FOR ECONOMY.

Favor Small Appropriations During the War.

Capital Issues Subchairman is Indorsed.

Liberty Fair Here Next Fall to be Supported.

Minimizing of appropriations as a war measure was one of the chief questions under discussion yesterday by the Supervisors who gathered in this city from all counties of California for a four-day convention. They met at Exposition Park in two sessions, morning and afternoon. The morning session was called to order by Robert E. Callahan of Sacramento and the address of welcome was given by John J. Hamilton.

Chief among the appropriation-reducing proposals was the passage in the afternoon of a motion by Supervisors A. J. Gurnee, Edward L. Wilson, Joseph M. Hayes of San Francisco providing for the appointment of a committee to draw up a supervisorial resolution indorsing the plan of John Perrin, special representative of the Federal Reserve Bank, and Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, both of whom stated that the Supervisors are under close public pressure and that the proposed appropriations are carefully tabulated.

A further resolution by Supervisor E. J. Delaney of Los Angeles was passed to the effect that the Supervisors' memorandum supporting the Liberty Fair to be held in this city next fall, and the California State Fair at Sacramento. It provided for financial as well as moral encouragement.

That the State Commission of Horticulture has saved California some $30,000,000 in crops was the statement of John W. Williams, Commissioner of Horticulture, who addressed the Supervisors. He said that by quarantining the State has been saved untold damage from the ravages of disease which would otherwise be imported from various regions of the globe. In addition, he proposed the appointment of a supervisorial committee to tabulate legislation for the protection of agriculture.

FOR FREE LIBRARIES.

Miss Harriet G. Eddy, county library organizer of the State Library staff, appeared before the Supervisors in behalf of county free libraries. She stated that, as children are given better reading material, just by that much has civilization progressed.

Other addresses were delivered by Fred W. Davison, District Attorney of San Mateo county, on "The Relation of the District Attorney to the Board of Supervisors;" by F. B. Davison of the First Fair Association, and Charles G. Johnson, State sealer, on "Weights and Measures."

The programme for today is as follows: Address by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors; Grange county; address by Henry J. Widemann of the California Highway Commission; luncheon at County Hospital; address by Richard H. Norton on "Charities;" inspection of hospital and county farm.

Y.W.C.A. ATHLETIC FIELD WILL OPEN.

The games will begin at 2 o'clock and continue until dark. Young women who are engaged in business may come out after dark and find time to play before dark.

MRS. DOOLEY'S ADVICE TO WORKING GIRLS

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I wish all girls who work and suffer from functional disorders would profit by my advice and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I was married, when I came home from work at night, I would just sit out with pains which dragged me down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel like a new woman. I can work from morning until night and it does not bother me, and I wish all girls who suffer as I did would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. H. Dooley, 1135 25th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Working girls everywhere should profit by Mrs. Dooley's experience, and instead of dragging along from day to day with a burden, give them famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. It helps overcome just such conditions for thousands of others, and why not for you? For special advice, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

NATURE TO AID WAR'S WINNING.

Interior have made many singular discoveries, which at other times were unknown to science. The series has taken 2000 men from the department. One man who was sent to France was a geologist who had been in Alaska for twenty years.

"What do you think they have for you in France?" I asked him when he came to tell me he was going. He explained that he would be used to locate trenches with respect to the character of the earth, as that they would be self-draining and as dry as possible.

"The department has developed out of the gas industry, and is now used in the mines of the country. A model that is now considered one of the best universal gas absorbers in use in Europe. In addition to the 2000 chemists in our own laboratory in Washington, and the laboratories of the universities as adjuncts.

"As to the largest aspect of the war, with these we have been able to impress themselves with one fact; neither must say that it is all right and express the hope that the other will not go in spite of determining the willingness to give to the war. Both must be impressed with the moral spirit over the entire country."

"Ours we had a doubt about the safety of the Middle West. Those States led the country—Nebraska was first in the purchase of War Bonds, and the others followed.

TRIBUTE TO CALIFORNIA.

"California volunteered more than enough for her quota of soldiers, which proves the spirit of the West. California has made a saving 100 per cent, loyal and thorough."

Here Mr. Lane paused to tell of the work Mrs. Lane has done in the department into a Red Cross regiment. Twenty beds are maintained in the first American base hospital in Paris, all soldiers from the department are assisted with their wives and $20,000 has been raised to carry on war work.

The Secretary laid stress on the need of men to be drafted, that 40,000 men in the present army could neither read nor write English. He is the originator of the present Americanization movement.

"With great enthusiasm and all primary education, reading, writing and arithmetic, especially American can history, taught in the English tongue. At present there are 1000 men of the country which have been used in their elementary training. The county boards of education can accomplish this. Your Mr. Brunner entered heartily into the spirit of the work in the conference at Washington."

ALASKA COAL FIELDS.

Mr. Lane told of the development of the Alaska coal fields. The government railroad was at present complete from the coal fields to the coast, and the coal is being developed in California, but the lack of coking coal has always stood in the way. The Alaska coal is already available in small way. Now the coal is not required for transportation as the difficulty of finding men with large capital to invest in the project." Mr. Lane did not know that he would get to Alaska.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Asked about the recurrent rumor that he may be a candidate for Governor of California this year, Mr. Lane replied: "I am not." His trip will probably take him to Honolulu, he said, where Governor-elect McCarthy is to be interviewed. Mr. Lane has a large problem awaiting him there in the disposition of the so-called "crown lands."

Last night Mr. Lane spoke at the First Congregational Church in Pasadena. Tonight he spoke at the University Club in Los Angeles. Tomorrow morning he leaves for San Francisco. Last night Mr. Lane and his party were entertained at the home of Mrs. Brown and Miss Laura Shaffer, Mr. Lane's private secretary.

HE DID IT FOR GOOD OF CAUSE.

Bible Student Distributor Faces Sedition Charge.

Says Pastor Russell Didn't Write "Finished Mystery."

Tells of Turning Back All His Sale Commissions.

Revolution and revelation were conflicting factors at the trial of James J. Eagleston, International Bible student, who is accused of violating the Espionage Act by circulating "The Finished Mystery," before United States District Judge E. D. Wilson of No. 200 Oak Knoll avenue. Prosecutor testified that Eagleston approached him about March 15, and in trying to sell him a copy of the alleged seditious book asserted "that the greatest revolution of which the world had ever known would take place after the war."

On the stand in his own behalf, Eagleston denied this, adding that he had no such revelation.

He also admitted under cross-examination by United States Assistant Attorney Palmer that "The Finished Mystery" was composed by somebody else and compiled and put into circulation by him, and that he had sold it to the United States into the war." He added that he circulated the work, not for money, "but for the good of the cause."

GOING TO DOGS?

Mr. Wilson stated that he could remember little more of his argument with Eagleston than that the defendant talked "as if the world was about to end." He was asked if he had ever heard the war as dry as possible.

That "The Finished Mystery" was not fundamental in the Book of Revelations, to whom Eagleston sold a copy of the work, also asserted that ought to be a revelation here, the same as in Europe." She could remember nothing further of her conversation with him, she stated.

The mystery is evidently still unfinished," interposed the court.

"What did you mean in your contention that the two world revolution or revolution?" asked Attorney Warren L. Williams of the defendant.

"Revelation," he replied. "This is the dominant idea in my mind because of the Book of Revelations being the basic principle of 'The Finished Mystery.' I have had nothing to do with revolutions. The author of the book is with the International Bible Students' Association."
